

EDINBURGH DECORATIVE & FINE ARTS SOCIETY

President: The Countess of Rosebery

APPLICATION FOR AFTERNOON OR EVENING MEMBERSHIP

The Arts Society, formerly The National Association of Decorative and Fine Arts Societies, was founded in 1968 and in 1970 Edinburgh started its own affiliated society. The membership subscription covers the ten illustrated lectures that are arranged from September to June. These lectures are held monthly on Tuesdays at 2.30 in the afternoon and 7.00 in the evening. We meet at Freemasons' Hall, 96 George Street, Edinburgh EH2 3DH. Applicants are invited to join the Waiting List for either Afternoon or Evening Membership. The annual subscription is currently £47 for single and £89 for joint membership. Please visit www.edfas.uk for further information.

During the year the Committee also arranges Visits and Study Groups to country houses, private collections, museums, galleries and places of interest in and around Edinburgh. Visits and Study Groups are separately financed and for limited numbers. Members apply for these on forms that are sent in the regular Society mailings.

Along with other Societies, EDFAS has volunteer groups of Church Recorders and Heritage Volunteers who help with conservation and archive work in museums, galleries, libraries, churches and historic houses.
